

Montgomery County's Illegal Alien Crime Wave

By Matt O'Brien | September 2019

Introduction

Montgomery County, Maryland, is experiencing an illegal alien crime wave. In just a little over a month, eight illegal aliens have been charged with committing sex crimes in Montgomery County:

- Salvadoran national Rodrigo A. Castro-Montejo was charged with raping an intoxicated woman.¹
- Salvadoran nationals Mauricio Barrera-Navidad and Carlos Palacios-Amaya were charged with serially raping an 11-year-old girl.²
- Honduran national Kevin Mendoza was charged with the rape and attempted murder of a Silver Spring, Maryland, woman.³
- Nestor Lopez-Guzman was charged with sexually abusing a 12-year-old girl and her brother over a six month period.⁴
- Honduran national Emilio Carrasco-Hernandez was charged with repeatedly raping his step-daughter.⁵
- Salvadoran national Nelson Saul Reyes-Medrano was charged with rape for an attack which he is accused of having committed in August of 2018. Reyes-Medrano is alleged to have crawled into the bed of a 16-year-old girl and sexually assaulted her at knife-point.⁶
- Nigerian illegal alien Oluwakayode Adebusuyi was charged with raping an intoxicated woman in his car.⁷

Castro-Montejo

Barrera-Navidad

Palacios-Amaya

Mendoza

Lopez-Guzman

Carrasco-Hernandez

Reyes-Medrano

Adebusuyi

All eight of the men were unlawfully present in the United States. Several of them had already been ordered removed by the U.S. Immigration Court or deported by U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement: Barrera-Navidad was ordered removed by an immigration judge in 2016 but was, apparently, never deported. Palacios-Amaya was deported and returned to the United States illegally. Carrasco-Hernandez was deported in 2017 and unlawfully re-entered the country sometime thereafter.

And these examples are drawn from just one category of crimes. What about illegal aliens committing burglaries, assaults, murder and other serious crimes?

Between June of 2017 and June of 2018, Montgomery County experienced a 67 percent increase in gang-related crime.⁸ Most of that increase appears to have been tied to illegal alien members of the MS-13 street gang. Examples of gang-related crimes include the brutal 2018 beating of a 15-year-old sex trafficking victim by three MS-13 illegal aliens: Ivan Alexis Pena-Rodriguez, Yervin Josue Romero-Rivera and Miguel Angel Ayala-Rivera.⁹

But a fair share of the crime has also been perpetrated by illegal aliens who just seem to prefer crime to a quiet life in suburban America. Instances of crime that was not obviously gang-related include the gruesome 2008 murder of 86-year-old Lila Meizel who was burned alive by Salvadoran illegal alien Ramon Alvarado in order to cover up a check-fraud scheme.¹⁰ And in 2017, Mario Granados-Alvarado, an illegal alien from El Salvador, broke into a Rockville, Maryland, police car and stole a shotgun and an AR-15 rifle, which he then brought to high school.¹¹ The teenager had multiple prior criminal arrests.¹²

Montgomery County Blames it All on “Xenophobic” Conservatives, Not Ridiculous Policies that Encourage Lawless Behavior

When President Trump tweeted a link to a Fox News article on Montgomery County’s illegal alien crime wave, local officials issued an outraged joint statement accusing the President, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) Acting Director Ken Cucinelli and conservative media entities of “spreading false information seeking to establish a baseless, illogical and xenophobic connection between a person’s failure to obtain legal status and their propensity to commit a sex crime.”¹³

County officials then affirmed that, “Social justice for all is what we strive to achieve in our County.” Of course, one wonders who is seeking actual justice for the victims of these criminal illegal aliens?¹⁴

Councilman Tom Hucker (D-Silver Spring) made the ridiculous claim that, “There’s no correlation between the number of undocumented immigrants in a locality and the number of crimes there. If anything, in areas that have more undocumented immigrants typically have less crime.”¹⁵

Councilman Hucker is grossly mistaken. Research conducted by FAIR suggests that Montgomery County’s skyrocketing crime rate is directly tied to the presence of massive numbers of illegal aliens and its status as a sanctuary jurisdiction.¹⁶ We analyzed data from the federal government’s State Criminal Alien Assistance Program (SCAAP) initiative, which reimburses state and local jurisdictions for incarcerating criminal aliens. The statistics we derived suggest that illegal aliens are at least three times as likely to be incarcerated, compared to citizens and lawfully-present aliens.¹⁷

And, according to SCAAP data, there were at least 563 illegal aliens locked up in Montgomery County jails in 2016. That is roughly one quarter of all the illegal aliens incarcerated in the State of Maryland. So, Montgomery County has more than 25 percent of Maryland’s illegal alien inmate population, despite being home to only 15 percent of the state’s total population. That is because Maryland’s most populous county has been working overtime to turn itself into a magnet for illegal aliens, many with ties to criminal gangs and drug trafficking organizations.

Sanctuary Stupidity

So what, exactly, is going on in Montgomery County? It has simply made itself far too attractive to illegal aliens by declaring itself to be a sanctuary jurisdiction.

Montgomery County has loudly and proudly announced that it is a sanctuary jurisdiction that does not cooperate with U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE).¹⁸ And, as one would expect, that status seems to be attracting an unsavory cast of illegal aliens who are engaging in a higher than average number of crimes.

Sanctuary proponents claim that if state and local police officers are seen as “immigration agents,” then illegal aliens who are the victims of crime, or witnesses to crime, will not come forward to aid police. In effect, they are claiming that good immigration enforcement interferes with the ability of state and local law enforcement agencies to stop child predators, drug dealers, rapists or robbers.

But that approach does not seem to be working in Montgomery County. In reality, it does not work anywhere, and here is why: The vast majority of illegal aliens come from countries where law enforcement authorities are either corrupt or serve as a tool of state oppression.¹⁹ They do not suddenly begin trusting American police officers because of sanctuary policies.

In addition, gangs are inextricably tied-up with criminal activities in illegal alien neighborhoods. And vicious gangs like MS-13, which is running rampant in Montgomery County, often exact retribution from anyone who is viewed as collaborating with law enforcement. As a result, most illegal aliens have no interest in cooperating with policing authorities at all.

In fact, once a city or town becomes a sanctuary jurisdiction, illegal aliens are less likely to cooperate with local police. Jurisdictions that ignore and promote illegal immigration erode civic trust in law enforcement. They send a clear message that law enforcement agencies in sanctuary jurisdictions are willing to tolerate a certain level of lawlessness.²⁰ The result is a chilling effect; fewer residents may be willing to approach police if they believe that officers are only willing to enforce certain laws against certain law-breakers under certain conditions. Uniformly enforcing all laws for all residents of a particular jurisdiction demonstrates integrity and fairness and fosters open dialogue.

What About Montgomery County's Claim That it Is Not Really a Sanctuary Jurisdiction?

According to the county's website, "Montgomery County is not a 'sanctuary' jurisdiction."²¹ Why? Because, allegedly, "Local police and the Department of Correction and Rehabilitation work cooperatively with ICE in their work on immigration and customs violations and drug and human trafficking." However, the very same web-page goes on to state that, "Montgomery County's policy is not to inquire about anyone's immigration status, nor does the County conduct any immigration enforcement or investigations. We believe that this is the right balance for this County."

That is a nice attempt by the county to talk out of both sides of its mouth for political gain, but it does not stack up against reality. On July 22, 2019, County Executive Mark Elrich issued an Executive Order titled "Promoting Community Trust."²² That document states, "Enforcing federal immigration law is the sole responsibility of the federal government of the United States and it is not in the interests of Montgomery County to utilize its limited resources to facilitate the enforcement of federal civil immigration law."

However, that is an utterly absurd contention, for a number of reasons. First off, Montgomery County does not have limited resources, especially when it comes to law enforcement. The county's police department has an annual operating budget of $295 million.²³ And its sheriff's office has a $25 million annual operating budget.²⁴ Secondly, if Montgomery County diligently collaborated with ICE to identify and deport illegal alien criminals, its policing expenses would drop.

In addition, experience has repeatedly demonstrated that, whether they say so or not, Montgomery County officials do not actually cooperate with ICE. In 2017, the Montgomery County Jail released Mario Granados-Alvarado – the illegal alien who broke into a police car and took a rifle and a shotgun - from custody – despite knowing that he was unlawfully present in the United States and being aware that ICE wished to arrest him.²⁵ More recently, it released illegal alien and accused rapist Rodrigo Castro-Montejo from custody despite having a hold request from ICE on file.²⁶

Those ill-considered releases are certainly consistent with statements made by Montgomery County Police Chief Marcus Jones who told reporters that a policy of not collaborating with ICE was in place prior to the issuance of the "Promoting Community Trust" Executive Order. He stated, "We have no direct contact with ICE about any immigration issues. We're not doing any operations with ICE in Montgomery County."²⁷ He also indicated that if ICE wants to deport someone in Montgomery County's custody, it must do so without the assistance of county officials.

Simply put, the words and actions of Montgomery County Officials are not those of a non-sanctuary jurisdiction dedicated to helping ICE protect the United States from illegal alien criminals.

Montgomery County Should Stop Protecting Criminal Illegal Aliens and Put the Interests of U.S. Citizens and Lawfully-Present Immigrants First

In response to the buck-passing officials who run Montgomery County, USCIS Acting Director Cucinelli tweeted, "I'll defend children and crime victims, Elrich can defend rapists and murders who shouldn't even be in this country."²⁸ And Mr. Cucinelli – who is an experienced prosecutor and former attorney general of Virginia – is taking the correct approach.

One of the most commonly used models of law enforcement management is called "broken windows policing." It was first described by social scientists James Q. Wilson and George L. Kelling in a 1982 article published in The Atlantic Monthly.²⁹ In essence, they claimed that when law enforcement entities ignore low-level crimes such as vandalism, loitering and public urination, they create a climate of lawlessness that allows other, more serious criminal activity to flourish. The solution is to empower police officers to combat conditions that give rise to lawlessness, which creates an environment of public order.

The Trump administration is the first to apply the broken windows policing model to immigration enforcement. But it has been opposed at every turn by illegal alien advocacy groups, activist federal judges and state/local officials in sanctuary jurisdictions.

And one has to wonder, what kind of reductions in MS-13 gang activity would Montgomery County experience if it actively collaborated with ICE and U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP), rather than protecting immigration violators? By definition, any crime committed by an illegal alien is a preventable crime – if our immigration laws had been enforced, the illegal alien would not have been here to offend in the first place.

Consistent, open enforcement of our immigration laws demonstrates to all members of American communities that this is a nation of laws where criminal behavior is not tolerated. Sanctuary policies just result in state and local agencies aiding and abetting illegal aliens as they continue to violate our immigration laws. In addition, tolerating illegal immigration and providing a "safe haven" for illegal aliens is unfair to those immigrants who respect our nation's laws and waited in line for years to come to the U.S. legally.

It is time for Montgomery County to put an end to its illegal alien crime wave and to start focusing on the interests of law-abiding U.S. citizens and legal immigrants that live within its boundaries.

Conclusion

For decades, open-borders advocates have claimed that fear of deportation means illegal aliens are inherently pre-disposed to avoiding criminal behavior. And despite data to the contrary, they have continued pushing the narrative that “illegal aliens = less crime.” That is nonsense.

People who break the law to enter the United States are not suddenly inclined to obey it once they cross the border. And Montgomery County is a textbook case-in-point that clearly demonstrates a significant connection between illegal aliens and crime.

¹ Kevin Lewis, “ICE: Montgomery Co. violates own policy, releases undocumented immigrant accused of rape,” WJLA, August 19, 2019, <https://wjla.com/news/crime/ice-montgomery-county-undocumented-immigrant-rape>.

² Kevin Lewis, “ICE: Undocumented immigrants in Md. rape friend's 11-year-old sister on separate occasions,” WJLA, August 13, 2019, <https://wjla.com/news/local/men-rape-minor-md-girl>.

³ “ICE: Undocumented immigrant strangles, rapes woman at Silver Spring apartment building,” WJLA, August 20, 2019, <https://wjla.com/news/local/man-arrested-for-allegedly-raping-woman-at-md-apartment>.

⁴ Timothy Meads, “Sixth Illegal Immigrant Arrested On Sexual Offense Charges In Maryland County In Less Than A Month,” Townhall, August 29, 2019, <https://townhall.com/tipsheet/timothymeads/2019/08/29/unbelievable-sixth-illegal-immigrant-accused-of-rape-in-maryland-county-in-less-than-a-month-n2552382>.

⁵ Sam Dorman, “Seventh illegal immigrant accused of sex crimes in Maryland county since July 25,” Fox News, August 31, 2019, <https://www.foxnews.com/us/illegal-immigrant-rape-seventh-six-weeks>.

⁶ “Police: This man raped a 16-year-old girl at knifepoint. Now ICE wants custody.” Law Enforcement Today, August 27, 2019, <https://www.lawenforcementtoday.com/police-suspect-raped-16-year-old-girl-at-knifepoint/>.

Travis Fedschun, “Illegal immigrant raped Maryland girl, 16, at knifepoint in her bedroom, police say,” Fox News, August 27, 2019, <https://www.foxnews.com/us/illegal-immigrant-rape-suspect-maryland-teenager-bedroom>.

⁷ Jason Hopkins, “Eighth Illegal Alien Has Been Charged With A Sexual Crime In Montgomery County, Maryland,” The Daily Caller, September 9, 2019, <https://dailycaller.com/2019/09/09/8th-illegal-charged-with-rape-in-maryland/>.

“ICE lodged detainer on rideshare driver accused of rape in Montgomery County,” Fox 5, September 9, 2019, <https://www.fox5dc.com/news/ice-lodged-detainer-on-rideshare-driver-accused-of-rape-in-montgomery-county?fbclid=IwAR1uq1nROguPlwp1ILDynmCRV1pzsg6A3EyihLgJ51IYC35nfCLxFDU4YQg>.

⁸ Tom Fitzgerald, "Police: Gang-related crime up 67 percent in Montgomery County from last year," Fox 5, July 25, 2018, <https://www.fox5dc.com/news/police-gang-related-crime-up-67-percent-in-montgomery-county-from-last-year>.

⁹ Brittany Hughes, "Illegal Alien MS-13 Thugs Beat a Teen Sex Trafficking Victim With Bats, Just Miles From D.C." Media Research Center, February 16, 2018, <https://www.mrctv.org/blog/illegal-alien-ms-13-thugs-beat-teen-sex-trafficking-victim-bats-just-miles-dc>.

Matt O'Brien, "The Veracity of President Trump's 'Outlandish' MS-13 Claims," Immigration Reform, December 7, 2018, <https://www.immigrationreform.com/2018/12/07/the-veracity-of-president-trumps-outlandish-ms-13-claims/>.

¹⁰ Freeman Klopott, "3 suspects in Wheaton slaying are illegal aliens, official says," Washington Examiner, December 3, 2008, <https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/3-suspects-in-wheaton-slaying-are-illegal-aliens-official-says>.

¹¹ Kevin Lewis, "ICE blasts Montgomery Co. for releasing accused felon despite immigration detainer," WJLA, May 8, 2017, <https://wjla.com/news/local/ice-arrests-moco-student-el-salvador-citizen-accused-of-bringing-rifle-to-school-grounds>.

¹² "What Happens To An Illegal Alien With A Stolen Police Rifle In A Stolen Car In Montgomery County, Maryland?" RedState, May 8, 2017, <https://www.redstate.com/streiff/2017/05/08/maryland-illegal-stolen-police-rifle/>.

¹³ Kevin Lewis, "Political fireworks on display in Montgomery County amid undocumented immigrant rape cases," WJLA, September 6, 2019, <https://wjla.com/news/local/elrich-ban-ice-county-jail>.

¹⁴ Kevin Lewis, "Political fireworks on display in Montgomery County amid undocumented immigrant rape cases," WJLA, September 6, 2019, <https://wjla.com/news/local/elrich-ban-ice-county-jail>.

¹⁵ Melissa Howell, "White House takes aim at Montgomery Co.'s immigration policy, leads to threats," WTOP, September 7, 2019, <https://wtop.com/montgomery-county/2019/09/white-house-takes-aim-at-montgomery-countys-immigration-policy-leads-to-threats/>.

¹⁶ Matt O'Brien, Spencer Raley, and Casey Ryan, "SCAAP Data Suggest Illegal Aliens Commit Crime at a Much Higher Rate Than Citizens and Lawful Immigrants," Federation for American Immigration Reform, February 3, 2019, <https://www.fairus.org/issue/illegal-immigration/scaap-data-suggest-illegal-aliens-commit-crime-much-higher-rate-citizens>.

¹⁷ Matt O'Brien, "The Illegal Alien Continuum of Crime," Immigration Reform, January 3, 2019, <https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/01/03/the-illegal-alien-continuum-of-crime-immigrationreform-com/>.

¹⁸ Jennifer Hickey, "Three Criminal Illegal Aliens, Two Rape Victims and Too Many Excuses from a Maryland Sanctuary County," Immigration Reform, August 21, 2019, <https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/08/21/sanctuary-policy-detainer-ice-immigrationreform-com/>.

Sasha-Ann Simons, "Montgomery County Vows Not To Cooperate With ICE," WAMU 88.5, July 22, 2019, <https://wamu.org/story/19/07/22/montgomery-county-vows-not-to-cooperate-with-ice/>.

¹⁹ "Refugee Outreach and Engagement Programs for Police Agencies," Police Executive Research Forum, May 2017, <http://www.policeforum.org/assets/refugeeoutreach.pdf>.

²⁰ Jen Kerns, "Sanctuary city policies are ruining California – here's why I left," The Hill, December 2, 2017, <http://thehill.com/opinion/criminal-justice/362940-sanctuary-city-policies-are-ruining-california-heres-why-i-left>.

²¹ Montgomery County Government, "Montgomery County's Position on U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)," Accessed September 2019, <https://www3.montgomerycountymd.gov/311/Solutions.aspx?SolutionId=1-56E386>.

²² Montgomery County Government, "Promoting Community Trust," Accessed September 2019, https://www.montgomerycountymd.gov/OPI/Resources/Files/2019/MC-executive_order_135-19.pdf.

²³ Montgomery County Government, Operating Budget – Police, Accessed September 2019,

<https://apps.montgomerycountymd.gov/BASISOPERATING/Common/Department.aspx?ID=47D>.

²⁴ Montgomery County Government, Operating Budget – Sheriff, Accessed September 2019,

<https://apps.montgomerycountymd.gov/BASISOPERATING/Common/Department.aspx?ID=48D>.

²⁵ Dan Morse, "Montgomery says it made mistake releasing suspect wanted by ICE," The Washington Post, May 8, 2017, https://www.washingtonpost.com/local/public-safety/montgomery-says-it-made-mistake-releasing-suspect-wanted-by-ice/2017/05/08/9456de04-3410-11e7-b412-62beef8121f7_story.html.

²⁶ Kevin Lewis, "ICE: Montgomery Co. violates own policy, releases undocumented immigrant accused of rape,"

WJLA, August 19, 2019, <https://wjla.com/news/local/ice-montgomery-county-undocumented-immigrant-rape>.

²⁷ Kimi Robinette, "Montgomery County Will Not Cooperate With ICE," WBAL, July 22, 2019, <https://www.wbal.com/article/401180/3/montgomery-county-will-not-cooperate-with-ice>.

²⁸ Kevin Lewis, "Political fireworks on display in Montgomery County amid undocumented immigrant rape cases,"

WJLA, September 6, 2019, <https://wjla.com/news/local/elrich-ban-ice-county-jail>.

²⁹ George Kelling and James Wilson, "Broken Windows," The Atlantic, March 1982, <https://www.theatlantic.com/magazine/archive/1982/03/broken-windows/304465/>.